

The name "Robin Farina" should be fairly known to our supporters, approved even if you are not a cyclist. You can join her at this year's inaugural Ride for the Kids to support the Bethlehem Center. If you are a cyclist, you probably have already heard the name. This local cyclist is not only a part of the Uptown Cycles team, but is ranked nationally as one of the best female cyclists. This weekend, Robin took 5th at San Dimas, despite an unfortunate mishap when she suffered from a flat tire. Read more about Robin and her team's successes this weekend here

Robin rides as a part of The Vera Bradley Foundation women's team.
